A note from the Pastor

I'm guilty of living in a "Christian bubble." As a pastor, my coworkers are all believers. My closest friends are all believers. Even my neighbors on either side of my house are a retired minister and an active deacon. I have some acquaintances who are not Christians, but the vast majority of people I come in contact with are all believers. This led to the dangerous practice of assuming how unbelievers think instead of listening to what unbelievers think.

Hannah and I made it a priority several years ago to seek out people who are not Christians to invest in. It started with a neighbor in Indiana who I played golf with regularly. Hannah got involved in a mom's group. We have seen relations grow through activities our kids are in. We've been able to have conversation about faith and life. And we've received many questions over the years.

There have been some really, tough questions. It's been challenging. But the biggest eye opener has been the lack of responses that unbelievers have received when asking questions. Often, people have shared that they've been asking even simple questions "for years" with no response. Brothers and sisters, we can do better. We must do better.

1 Peter 3:15 says Christians must always be prepared "to make a defense to anyone who asks you for a reason for the hope that is in you." This certainly doesn't mean we must answer every question. But we should at least be able to answer why salvation gives us hope!

Through the month of July, I'll be preaching a series entitled "Big Questions." We'll be looking at several types of questions that unbelievers have asked. I'll follow up that up with "Now, I Have Questions," a mini-series about questions that you as a Christian can ask your unbelieving friends. My hope is that these series will push us all to know the Word of God better and share the gospel more confidently.

BIG QUESTIONS

HOW CAN YOU TRUST THE BIBLE?

WHY WOULD GOD ALLOW EVIL?

HOW DO YOU RECONCILE FAITH AND SCIENCE?

WHY ARE CHRISTIANS SO JUDGMENTAL?

Liggett Family - Ministry Update

We want to start by saying, Thank you!. Thank you for your year of faithful prayers, support, and friendship. As we have been keeping you aware, much of our plans have been changed by God. Our furlough was planned to end May 12th followed by our return to Guatemala. With the outbreak of Covid-19 the world and our plans were halted. Borders were closed and our flights were cancelled. Since we were not able to return on this date, our residency visas expired. Travels throughout the USA were not possible as churches were not able to hold services.

We began to pray for direction from God on how to proceed. God clearly answered and opened a door for us to return for what we believed would be an indefinite period to help our sending church Berean Baptist, in Albuquerque, NM. Our sending pastor had become ill and announced his resignation. Upon his resignation the church asked us to candidate for the position of the next pastor. This brought many emotions. Through much prayer and fasting, it was clear what God was doing. Jonathan has accepted the calling to be the next pastor of Berean.

We look forward to what God will do in this next stage of our ministry and welcome you alongside.

Jonathan & Joanna Liggett
