A note from the Pastor

Most of the Christian world has been following the remarkable events of the Asbury Revival. In summary, a routine chapel service on February 8 became a 13 day, 24/7 worship gathering. The event ended only after the University said that the town's infrastructure couldn't handle the influx of 50,000+ visitors it received. It has been remarkable to follow.

As many of us pray for revival here in Robinson, let us consider what revival is and what it is not.

1) Revival is a change of heart, not an event. The people who's lives have been changed at Asbury University will confirm this. None of this was planned. None of it can be replicated in quite the same way. We can learn a great deal from the leadership of the University - not in how they orchestrated the events, but how they preached the Word and called for repentance.

2) Revival is both individual and corporate in nature. As you read about the beginning of the Asbury Revival, you'll find it started with students praying together after the service had "concluded" on February 8. Their hearts were burdened as individuals, but they stayed together for prayer. The Bible has a strong emphasis on individual repentance, but perhaps an even greater emphasis on a community of worshippers. We can learn a great deal about the necessity of fellow believers in worship and repentance.

3) Revival is an act of God, not an act of man. Several other Christian Colleges and Universities have followed Asbury by remaining in chapel services for days. I do not doubt the sincerity of their devotion. I also caution churches from trying to manufacture a false sense of spiritualism. In contrast, some are reporting that after preaching the chapel message on February 8, Pastor Zach Meerkrees felt his message was lacking. We can learn that the Holy Spirit uses imperfect people, sermons, gospel presentations, and prayers to stir the hearts of others.

4) Revival is unique, not cookie cutter. I pray for revival in Robinson, IL. If I'm honest, I would love to see thousands flock here for 24 hour worship services. But revival often looks much different. Sometimes, revival looks like the masses. Other times, revival looks like a family. My genuine prayer is that the Spirit would lead each of us to public repentance and dedication. We will learn a lot about revival by the way we respond, not to Asbury, but to the Holy Spirit.

I've often said that the demise of our culture will inevitably lead to one or two things: the return of Christ or a revival. I long for either of those. While no one can usher in the return of Jesus, each of us can obediently follow the Word of God and allow revival to change our hearts.

Fishing In Restricted Waters

Missions Spotlight

Our Missionaries in Asia have five children, including a new baby girl! They have been stateside for much of 2022 due to problems with visa and quarantine requirements, but trust that God will provide a way back when the time is right. While in the USA, they have been working with several Asian nationalities in their community through a book study and after school classes. Please pray for this and their new baby, that they may soon follow their calling back to Asia. Please pray for the youth in their US group that have been unable to return home or are struggling with their faith. For more detailed information on our Asian missionaries, please contact church office or a member of our Mission Board.

Brett & Patti Butler

Missions Spotlight

Brett and Patti Butler are located in Kentucky. Brett was called to be a North American missionary at age 50 and moved with his wife Patti from Kentucky to the California Bay Area in May 2015 to share the gospel, make disciples, and start churches.

They felt called back to Kentucky in 2022 and started a small farm. They are working to build it into a training and retreat center where they will host Evangelism and Four Fields Mission training, complete with overnight accommodations. The move has also brought them closer to their four grown children.
